Dear Parent,

Your child's half-termly Student Profile is now available in SIMS Learning Gateway.

The Profile contains information about your child's current levels or grades in the subjects that they are studying, and the minimum level or grade we expect them to achieve by the end of the year. The Profile also includes grades that will give you an indication of your child's effort and behaviour so far this term. Effort grades of C or D will be accompanied by an area for improvement, details of which will also be on the Profile. The grades available are explained on the Profile itself.

Please be aware that, at this stage in the year, the current levels or grades will be quite low in subjects that the students started studying for the first time this September. This is simply because they have only covered 14 weeks of the course. We do, however, expect students to be close to their Minimum Target Level/Grade in these subjects by the end of this year.

You can access the Student Profile on the SIMS Learning Gateway by logging into your account.

If you have any questions about the Profile or your child's progress, please do not hesitate to contact your child's Year Leader or Form Tutor.

Yours faithfully,

S Herbert (Mrs)
Deputy Headteacher
